

FLYTIPPING

What is it and how can we stop it?

Flytipping is the illegal dumping of waste. It's a criminal offence. If you're caught you face a fixed penalty notice of £200. But if you get taken to court, you could be fined up to £40,000 or sent to prison for up to five years.

3 ways to report flytipping.

And 6 ways to avoid it.

1

To report flytipping on public or private land call your local council's customer service on [insert phone number]

2

Alternatively, you can call the Dumb Dumpers Stopline on 0845 230 4090. Or fill in the online form at www.dumbdumpers.org

3

You can also use smartphone apps such as Fix My Street or Love Clean Streets.

1

If your items are small enough, put them into the proper bin. If they don't fit or can't be collected at the kerbside, take them to your local recycling centre yourself.

2

Call your local council and ask for a bulky items uplift. They'll usually charge you a small fee.

3

Call the Re-use Line on 0800 0665 820. If your furniture, white goods or bikes are still good enough to be used by someone else, they'll pick them up for free.

4

Hire a reputable waste disposal company to get rid of your items. Check they have a waste carrier's license, ask where they're taking the items and query their price.

5

Many white goods retailers will take away your old appliance. Ask when you buy a new one from them.

6

Take your items to a charity shop. Some charity shops will even take white goods like cookers, fridges and washing machines if they still work.
